SPEAKING TOPICS:

U R More

The biggest lie people believe is, "I am not enough." Not pretty enough; not together enough; not good enough. But the Word of God teaches that we are More than what meets the eye. More beautiful, more powerful, more gifted and more loved than we know. When we realize how He sees us, we have grace for our flaws and embrace the fact that we are More than Enough just as we are.

Sessions may include: U R Loved; U R Valuable; U R Forgiven; U R Chosen, U R a Voice, U R More than who you used to be.

More Beautiful Than You Know (for young women)

Young women are bombarded with lies about their value. The media inundates them with images of beauty that are not true to life. These messages focus on the primary issues facing this generation of girls: sexual purity, body image, eating disorders, self-harm, depression, bullying, drug and alcohol abuse, and social media addiction. Attendees will gain a greater perspective of their inherent value as God's loved and already-approved daughters.

Beautiful Lies (for women)

As women, we tend to look to the wrong things for a reflection of our value. We look to the man standing in front of us; the reflection in the mirror; the lies of the magazines; the masks we wear; the measurement of the media. But these things only confuse our value. It is only by looking in the Mirror of God that we see who we truly are: His beloved daughters and precious creations, hand-crafted dwelling places where He wants to reign and shine. We are His chosen instruments, designed to represent Him in a world that needs us to impact it for Good.

From Broken to Beautiful (Jen's Testimony)

For fifteen years, Jen worked in the most glamorized industry in the world. As a professional model she appeared in TV commercials for Oil of O'lay, Mercedes Benz, and Coca-Cola; appeared in Vogue, Glamour, and Seventeen; and walked the runway for Giorgio Armani in Milan. But at the height of her career, her heart cried out for More. Her journey from fashion to faith, her exit from the limelight of the stage, to a life spent serving the hurting and lost, will captivate any audience. Attendees will be moved to discover, embrace, and reflect beauty that really lasts.

From Victim to Victor (The Power of Forgiveness)

For years, Jen carried the pain of her past with her. Defined only by who she used to be and all the heartache she experienced, she didn't know how to cut the tie with the past and move on for good. When a woman at an event challenged her by saying Jen was still living as a victim instead of a victor, the course of Jen's future changed. She ventured into a journey of forgiveness that was long, painful, but incredibly worth it. Attendees will learn about the power of forgiveness and be inspired to release their pain so it can be transformed into purpose.
